RMUoHP appoints Director of Clinical Education.

Rocky Mountain University of Health Professions (RMUoHP) has appointed Jeffery D. Lau, PT, DPT, OCS, CMPT, to serve as Director of Clinical Education for the entry-level Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) degree program. "Dr. Lau is a valuable asset to the institution," said Dr. Richard P. Nielsen, President of RMUoHP. "We are pleased to have him as a member of our talented staff."

Dr. Lau has practiced in a variety of areas, including outpatient sports and orthopedics, industrial rehabilitation, skilled nursing/ long term rehabilitation, and hospital facilities, as well as in the educational setting during the last ten years. He received his undergraduate training at Utah Valley State College and Southern Utah University. Dr. Lau attended Creighton University and earned his Doctorate in Physical Therapy in 1999. He is an APTA credentialed clinical instructor, is Board Certified by the American Board of Physical Therapy Specialties as an Orthopedic Clinical Specialist, and is certified by the North American Institute of Manual Therapy as a manual physical therapist (CMPT).

"Joining the faculty and staff here at Rocky Mountain University is an honor," Lau said. "It is an environment where students who are eager to learn receive top quality, enthusiastic, and personalized instruction from dedicated, qualified, and passionate instructors."

About Rocky Mountain University of Health Professions:

RMUoHP offers doctoral degrees for current and future healthcare providers and educators, including athletic trainers, physical therapists, nurses, and occupational therapists. RMUoHP's non-traditional model enables students to complete advanced degrees without relocating. Curricula emphasize specialized education in advanced clinical, research, and academic areas. RMUoHP is currently developing a residential Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) program which is scheduled to start in May 2010.
