RMUoHP holds 4th Annual Evidence-based Practice Symposium

On July 31, 2009, Rocky Mountain University of Health Professions (RMUoHP) sponsored the 4th Annual Evidence-based Practice Symposium in Provo, Utah. More than 35 athletic trainers, nurses, occupational therapists, and physical therapists attended the symposium. Attendees listened to research presentations and lectures given by Stephen C. Allison, PT, PhD (Payson, AZ), Marthe J. Moseley, PhD, RN, CCRN, CCNS (San Antonio, TX), Rebecca D. Reder, OTD, OTR/L (Cincinnati, OH), and Craig R. Denegar, PhD, PT, ATC (Mansfield Center, CT). The 5th Annual Evidence-based Practice Symposium is scheduled to be held August 6, 2010.

About Rocky Mountain University of Health Professions:

RMUoHP offers post-professional degrees in healthcare, including doctoral programs for athletic trainers, physical therapists, nurses, occupational therapists, and other healthcare providers and educators. RMUoHP's programs follow a non-traditional academic model that enables students to complete advanced degrees without relocating. Curricula emphasize specialized education in advanced clinical, research, and academic areas. RMUoHP is currently developing a residential Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) degree program which is scheduled to start in May 2010.
